"Consider the Source" Learning Log #2

Part II - Gathering Information About Source Reliability

After viewing the web sites, discuss and record your responses to these questions:

- How do you know what to believe?

- Why is it important for you to have knowledge about the source of information?

Finally, compile and condense all of the information you have gathered. Make a list or chart of all of the important factors needed to determine if a source is reliable.